

Litigation Support TODAY™

ABOUT US

Litigation Support Today was introduced to the legal market in 2007 as the only publication with editorial content dedicated 100% to the rapidly expanding litigation support profession. Published as a quarterly print magazine for 5 years, it was then converted to a fully electronic medium to keep pace with the fast-paced changes taking place in this growing segment of the legal space.

The Litigation Support Today database consists of high level litigation support professionals employed at large law firms, corporate legal departments, government agencies and elsewhere. Litigation Support Today is the one medium that reaches the litigation support professional market exclusively.
